How To Enjoy Santorini Even When You're Not On Baecation

WHO SAID COUPLES GET TO HAVE ALL THE FUN?

BY DANIELLE POINTDUJOUR · FEBRUARY 4, 2020

Santorini, Greece is easily one of the most romantic destinations in the world. The island's whitewashed buildings, bright blue domes and golden sunsets are iconic, and photos of its landscapes are instantly recognized by travelers across the globe. Santorini is also a bucket list destination for couples everywhere who dream of seductive cave suites with views of the Aegean Sea that are built for love.

But lovers aren't the only ones who dream of exploring the island's black sand shores.

But despite the island's reputation as a baecation paradise, there's plenty to do for the bae-less as well. From ATV tours of the islands, exploring the underwater world of the Cyclades on a dive, lively wine tastings at Santo Wines and relaxing days on Perissa Beach, there's plenty to do and see as a solo explorer.

If you're heading to the Greek isles this year and have been wondering how you can live your best life solo, check out this quick and handy guide to how you can enjoy Santorini without a bae. Who knows, you might find one there!

Hidden Oasis

It's hard to escape the romantic vibes most hotels in Santorini have, but if you want to avoid the bulk of lovebirds who usually gather in Thira and Oia, head to the town of Imerovigli and set up camp at Andronis Concept resort. At Andronis, you can focus more on wellness than romance and indulge in the biggest spa on the island, in-house fruit and vegetable gardens, yoga, cooking classes and of course, breathtaking views.
